

ODE TO A LOST GENERATION

This collection aims to honor the heroic acts of people that lost their lives during the WWII or were taken to the battle and returned indifferent as their world has been now forever shattered. One of those men, was my great-grandfather, who bravely fought for his life in SSRS army in WWII. He spent seven years apart from his wife and children as in 1945 when the war was over, he was then departed to fight against Japan. Meanwhile it was unknown to any if he was still alive.

The collection's concept provokes sensible idea of life and death as it reflects to the fragility of the present and how it can be easily lost as death is a unstoppable force, and soul is what's left within.

fresques from baroque church by Giovanni Battista Gaulli (1664-1679)

ЛУЧШИЕ
А. В.
МИРОСЫ
ТАБАЧНАЯ
ФАБРИКА
ИВРОСТОК

soviet union cigarettes commercial

baroque aesthetic to showcase dramatic and emotional expression

WWII archives

great-grandfather's pigeony airview of Lithuania taken from German airplane

H-231

Luftfliegerkommando 1
Stabsabteilung
F.:	1001 57/44
Platz:	11.7.44
Abt.:	3/17.7.44

64

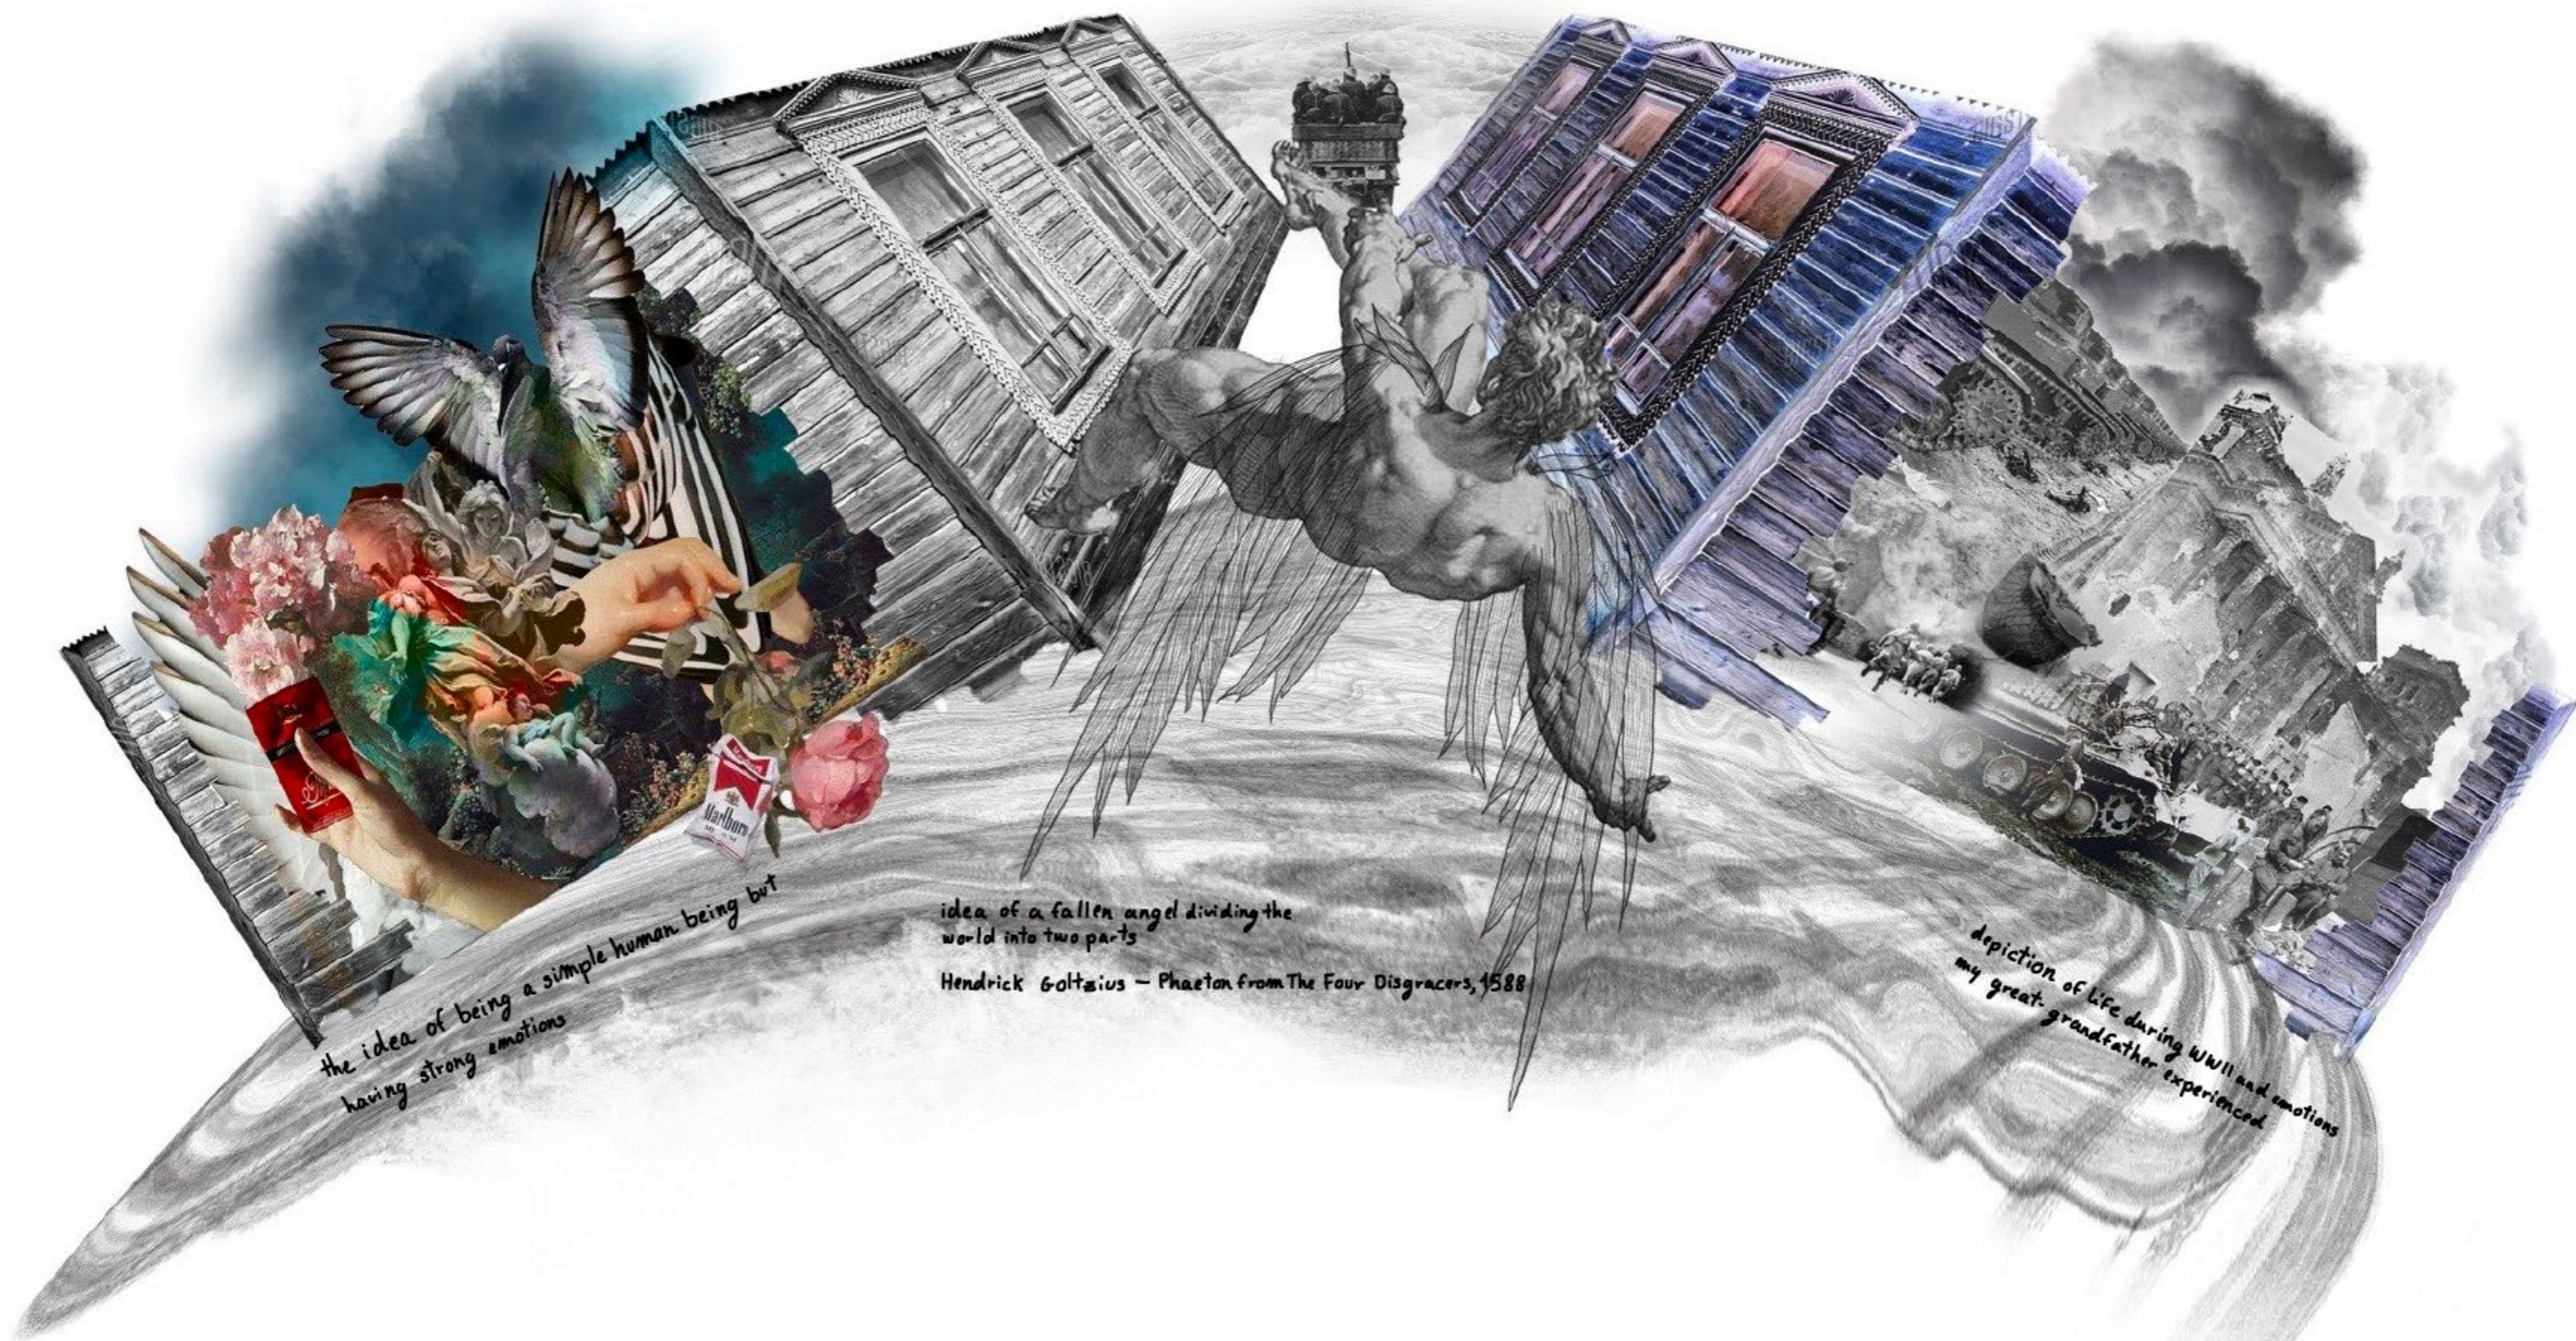

Ann Demeulemeester
collection SS18

WWII archives

fight between death and life colours to reflect emotions

SNAP

the idea of being a simple human being but having strong emotions idea of a fallen angel dividing the world into two parts Hendrick Goltzius - Phaeton from The Four Disgracers, 1588 depiction of life during WWII and emotions my great-grandfather experienced shoulder mark inspiration from original WWII garment

WWII coat back black pleat inspiration inspiration for strings and hardware baroque inspiration and enlightenment after death design development collages made out of samples and draping fabric swatches

I toile

pleats have been reduced from the first toile to allow movement in the body

II toile

collar width reduced

front pleats taken out

fake back flap created

bottom connected to jacket side body through the back tech drawings

close up of jacket technical drawings

design development

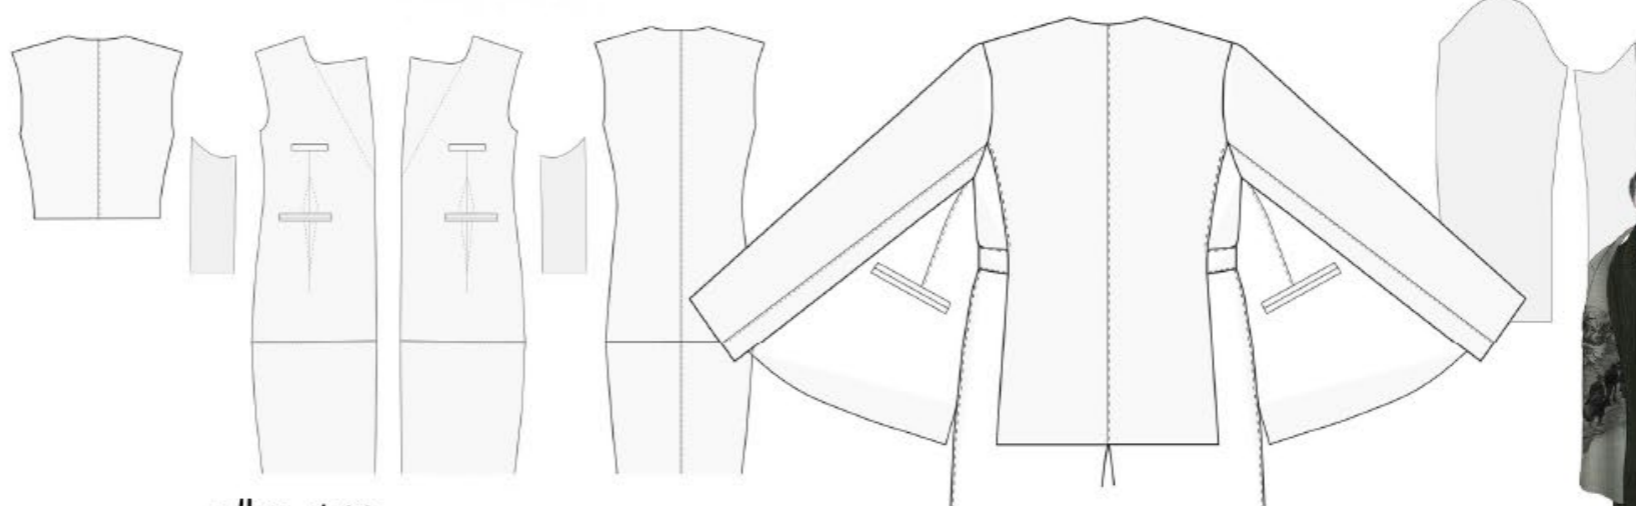

front and back panels attached through side body ribbing underneath

technical explanations

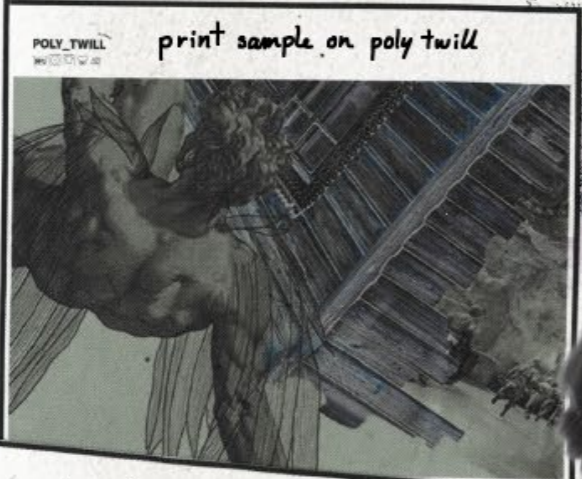

pattern pieces

back construction view

design development

fabric swatches

print placement development

toile front and back view inspiration taken from the draping toile side and back view

fabric swatches

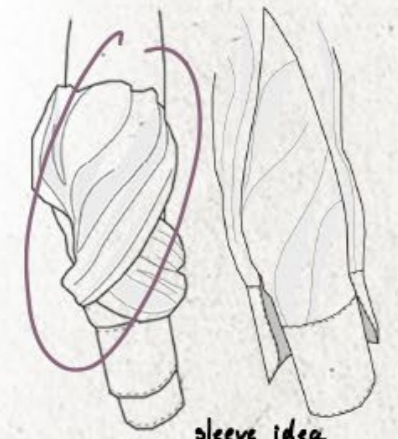

draping inspiration

sleeve development

technical drawings facings sleeve idea

enlarged bow developed from sleeve idea opening in the middle

front and side view

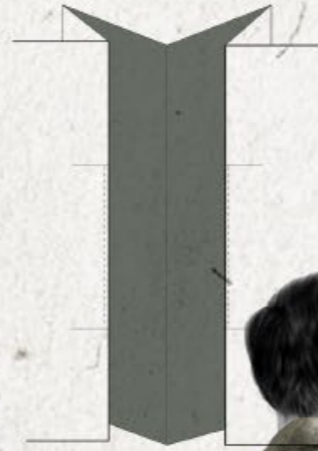

pattern pieces

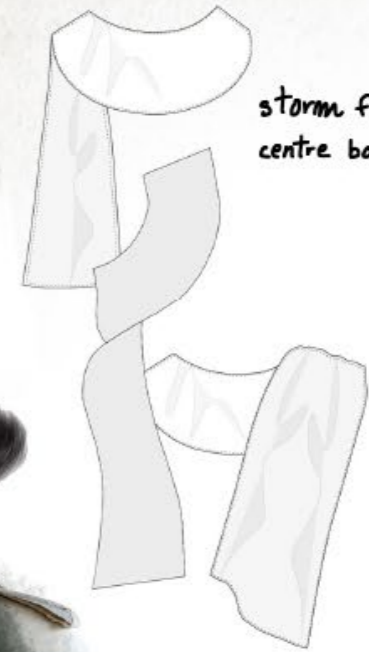

inspiration from wooden house window decor back pleat construction storm flap to be attached on centre back pleat inspiration

technical drawings

fabric swatches

hook in centre back

front and back flap pattern to represent cut out of the window ornaments trims include overlocker, top stitch, French seam, double welt stitch, pin seam

Joel & Son Muted Green 'Super 160's Cashmere' Price : 149,90€/m2
Truro Fabrics Silk velvet devore fabric Green flame Price : 19,99€/m2 MacCulloch & Wallis Airforcebluesilk & viscose Italian devore velvet Price : 25€/m2
Joel & Son Blue/Grey & Ivory Double faced denim Price : 29,90€/m2
Joel & Son Dark green bonded cotton Price : 27,90€/m2 Truro Fabrics Cashmere & wool blend suiting Grey Pinstripe Price : 30€/m2 Custom print Herringbone tweed Price : 25€/m2
Green Grizzly Metal side release buckles Antique brass Price : 5,29€/unit
Green Grizzly Metal side release buckles Antique brass Price : 5,29€/unit Green Grizzly Metal side release buckles Oxide black Price : 5,29€/unit FenlandGreen Genuine horn buttons Price : 26,26€ FenlandGreen Genuine horn toggles buttons Price : 13,04€

ODE TO A LOST GENERATION

body and mind before stepping their feet on any if he was still alive. The concept of a 'lost generation' reflects to the fragility of the present and how it can be easily lost as death is an unstoppable weapon, and soul is what's left within. The collection aims to honour the heroes of people who lost their lives during the WWII or were taken to the body and mind before stepping their feet on any if he was still alive. The concept of a 'lost generation' reflects to the

the body and mind before stepping their feet on any if he was still alive. The concept of a 'lost generation' reflects to the

ode to a lost generation

the body and mind before stepping their feet on any if he was still alive. The concept of a 'lost generation' reflects to the

the body and mind before stepping their feet on any if he was still alive. The concept of a 'lost generation' reflects to the

the outcome of a war

the body and mind before stepping their feet on any if he was still alive. The concept of a 'lost generation' reflects to the

the body and mind before stepping their feet on any if he was still alive. The concept of a 'lost generation' reflects to the

the body and mind before stepping their feet on any if he was still alive. The concept of a 'lost generation' reflects to the

the body and mind before stepping their feet on any if he was still alive. The concept of a 'lost generation' reflects to the

the body and mind before stepping their feet on any if he was still alive. The concept of a 'lost generation' reflects to the

and mind with the spirit. Before stepping into the field, the soldiers were equipped with the knowledge of their duty, which embarked their unity between the body and mind. The collection aims to honour the acts of people that lost their lives during the WWII, to fight against Japan. In WWII, he spent seven years in the Pacific and returned to the battle and returned indifferent as to the fate of those men, was my great-grandfather who spent seven years apart from his wife and children as in 1946 when he was still alive. The colour palette of the collection majorly consists of muted tones, with hints of soft, light, and dark tones, with hints of soft, light, and dark tones, with hints of soft, light, and dark tones.

where the soul is left to wander and suffer. The soul is left to wander and suffer.

1945 He was deported to fight against Japan.

world has been shattered. One of those my great-grandfather (father) who bravely fought for his life in 1945.

aims to honour the heroic acts of people that lost their lives during the WWII.

the war was over, he was still alive. The war was over.

the loop of lowest and highest of their senses. The loop of lowest and highest of their senses. The loop of lowest and highest of their senses.

the thought behind gun machines. The thought behind gun machines. The thought behind gun machines.

Sensible idea of life and death. Sensible idea of life and death. Sensible idea of life and death.

fears coming from their eyes. Fears coming from their eyes. Fears coming from their eyes.

ODE TO A LOST GENERATION

concept provokes sensible idea of life and death as it reflects This collection aims to honor the heroic acts of people that physical forms in an infinite cycle, where the soul is left to wander and suffer. The only way for soul to break the loop is to attain self-liberation by reaching enlightenment by uniting body and mind in an infinite cycle. The soul is left to wander and suffer while it was unknown to any if he was still alive. He checked his wife and children in 1946 when the war was over. He was left to suffer against Japan, meanwhile it was unknown to any if he was still alive.

of the fragility of life. The fragility of the present is an unstoppable weapon. The collection aims to honor the heroic acts of people that lost their lives during the war. The collection aims to honor the heroic acts of people that lost their lives during the war. The collection aims to honor the heroic acts of people that lost their lives during the war.

great-grandfather - those men had night terrors following them in their sleep, tears coming from their eyes because of sorrow and guilt body and mind with the spirit. Before stepping their foot on the land most soldier's had to get accustomed with the

for every man they had to get accustomed with the idea of dying. which was a question 'Is it me or you?' This collection aims to honor the heroic acts of people that lost their lives during the war. The collection aims to honor the heroic acts of people that lost their lives during the war. The collection aims to honor the heroic acts of people that lost their lives during the war.

cycle of death and rebirth in which life in the material world is bound. The body dies but the soul is eternal. The body dies but the soul is eternal. The body dies but the soul is eternal. The body dies but the soul is eternal.

have liberated themselves from their bodies. The color palette of the collection majorly consists of dark tones and muted colors. The collection aims to honor the heroic acts of people that lost their lives during the war. The collection aims to honor the heroic acts of people that lost their lives during the war.