Arthur & Ben at Westward Ho!

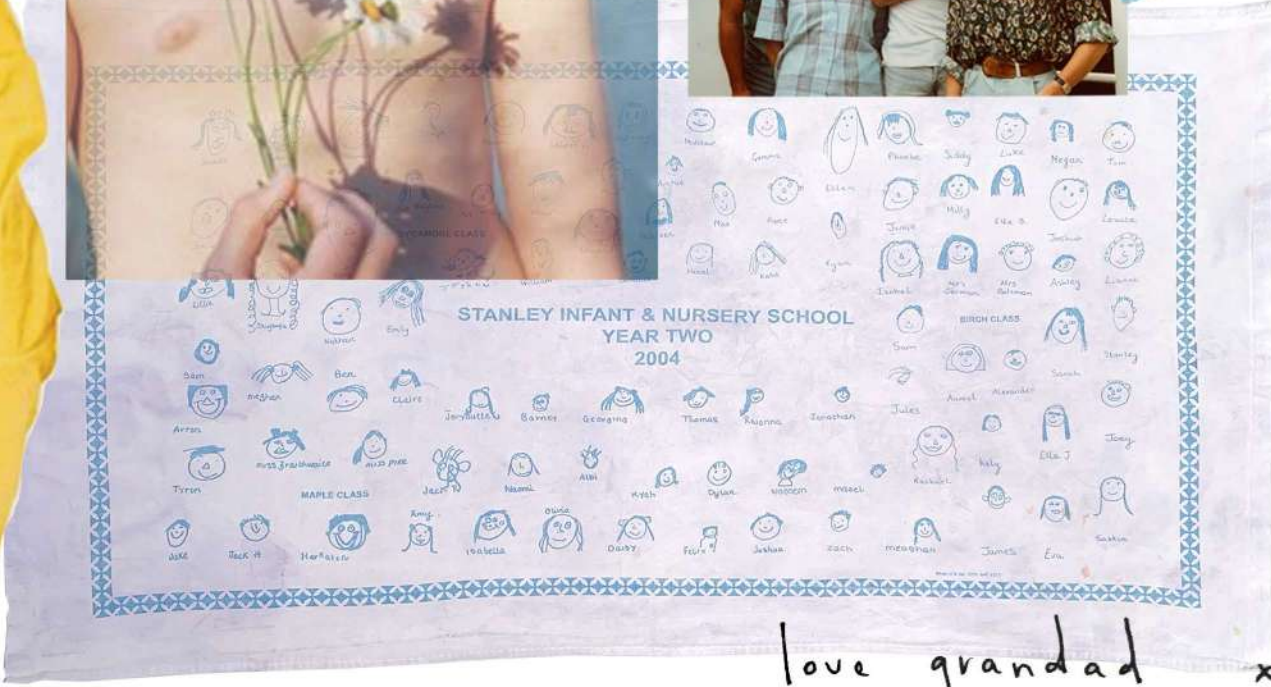

On reflection on my time at Kingston I realised I had ~~referen~~ referenced my family and their own artistic outlets in all my previous projects. Due to this I wanted to look at my family for final collection.

Many of my family members are adopted, my granddad was adopted by a man named Arthur Robbins who gave my family our surname. I wanted to take this 'adoptive' culture and implement it into this collection; using old photographs and memories of different people I consider family lead the design process.

I am aspiring to create menswear pieces that herald the new wave of softer, more experimental fashions for men.

Jake + phoebe in Topham near The BIG road!

North Devon - an area of outstanding natural beauty.

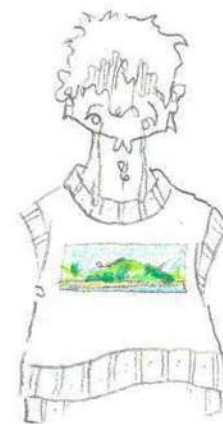

GAVIN c. 1990.

The view from my house is of a village called Instow. I've always loved the above painting of my Grandad's that is an interpretation of this view.

I want to try and do my own interpretation.

"I can't recall: You probably called them 'flat collarr'.
 I know I had a conversation with Gill at the time,
 You weren't allowed reverse collars, uniform was polo shirts and sweaters .. but you got reverse collars
 anyway."

Grain 40th 1984 on the Rhine - Germany

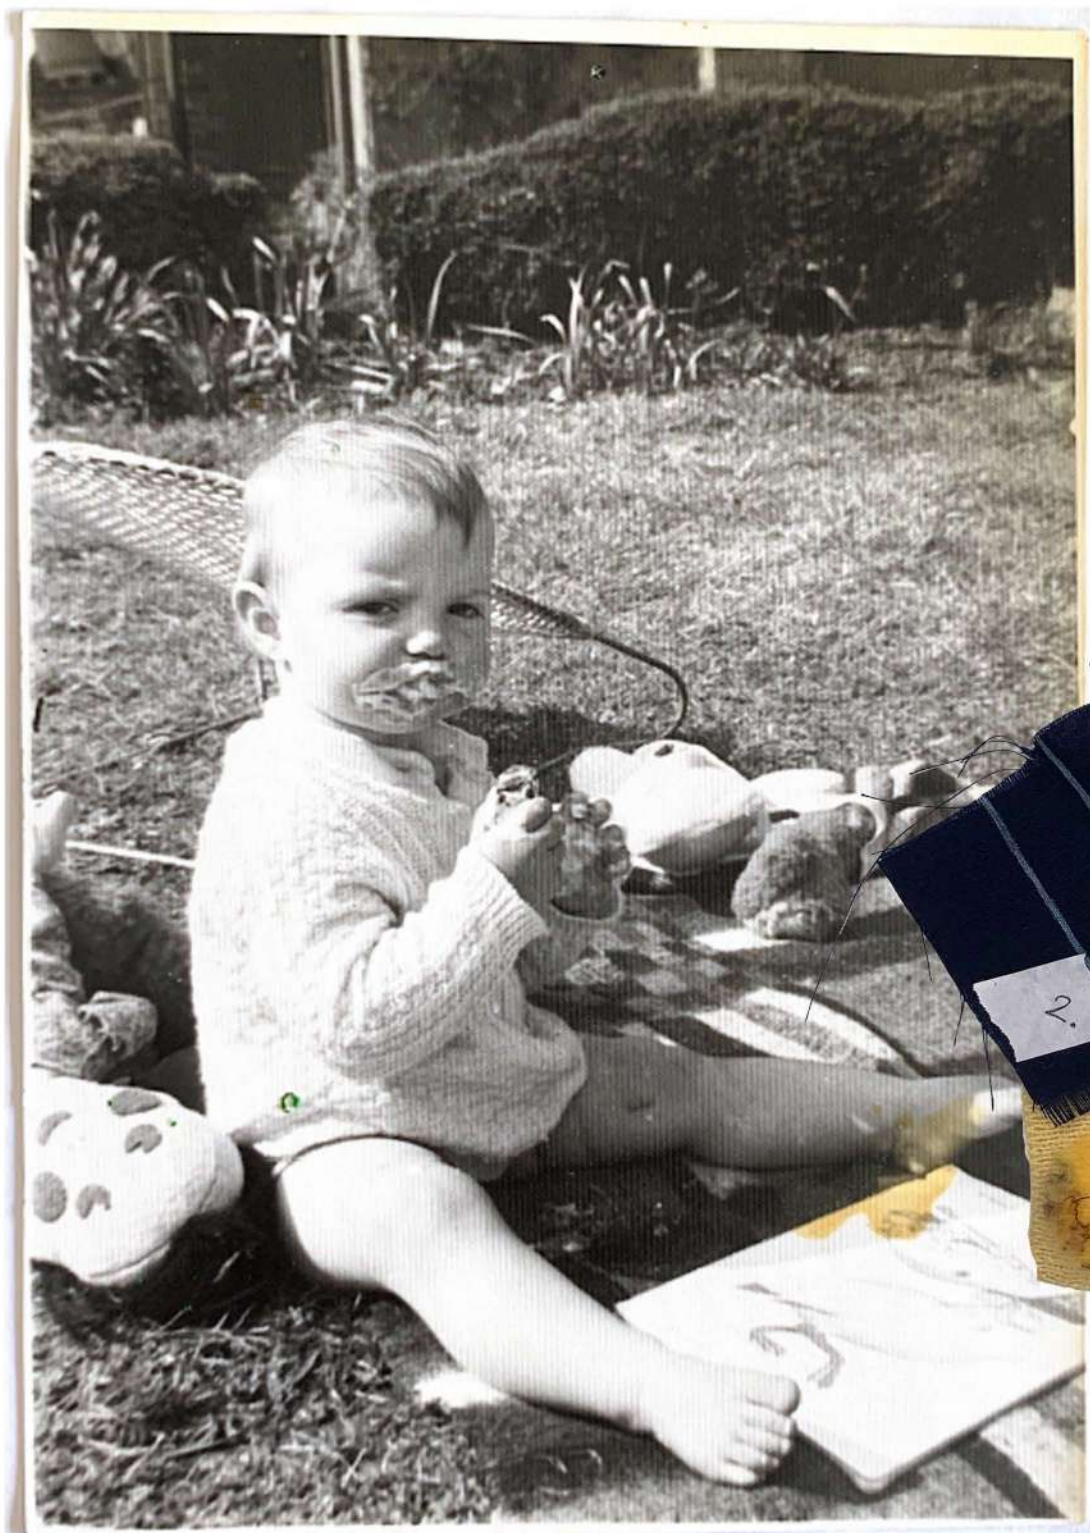

a silk shirt gifted to me by my grand-dad, it is from Turnbull + Asser where he used to work.

GAVIN + PIERRE

I want to upcycle + reinvent this piece into my collection as it is a beautiful fabric + has lots of lovely detailing, including a built-in-tie feature rather than a collar.
