Mothe Combe, Devon

A place I call Home...

A concept developed from research into historic fishing communities along the coasts of Britain; a reflection of my identity and heritage. A tribute to traditional garments, textiles and lost techniques.

Sustainability is at the core of my design. A collection using upcycling, reworking and simply "making do".

100% Upcycled

The "Mothecombe" Mac

This modern day interpretation of the Fishermans "Mac" or "oilskin"
has been made using a Repurposed sleeping bag.

Location - Mothecombe Village,
Devon

Mothecombe, Devon

A knit collection inspired by the fishermans wives whom would knit wooly jumpers to keep the Fishermen warm, and invent new knitting techniques, such as the Aran & cable knit.

The "Hilda" Swim set.

Inspired by imagery of My Nan Hilda in her knitted swim suit on Mothecombe Beach in 1952.
While my grandfather was out fishing she'd enjoy the beach.
